
EU Commission: European Disability and Parking Card valid in all States. Dalli, this facilitates inclusion

“For many persons with disabilities, private car transport remains the best or only possibility for travel and getting around independently, ensuring their autonomy”, the European Commission said in Brussels today as it presented a proposal for a standardized European Disability Card and improvements to the current European Parking Card. In particular, the enhancements proposed to the current European Parking Card will allow “persons with disabilities to access the same parking rights available in another Member State”. This Card will have a binding common format that will replace national parking cards for persons with disabilities and be recognised throughout the EU.
