
Daphne Caruana Galizia: the Council of Europe publishes the last interview on the third anniversary of the murder. “I am a scapegoat”

A “scapegoat”: this is what Daphne Caruana Galizia, a Malta-born investigative journalist murdered in yet unexplained circumstances (the instigator of the murder has not been found out yet) three years ago, on 16th October 2017, must have felt like – and defined herself.

Immagine non disponibile